

LONG BEACH, Calif.

(UPI) — Pat Nixon will be released Friday from Long Beach Memorial Hospital where she has been recovering for more than two weeks from a stroke that partially paralyzed her left arm and leg, it was announced Thursday.

Doctors, nurses and therapists have been putting together a therapy plan for her when she returns to her San Clemente, Calif., home, where she suffered the stroke July 7,